Trybe creator deals with a shortlist and payout tracker

Researched 2026-11-12.

Strengths and best use

The reel's spreadsheet shows a useful way to track creator opportunities, submission dates and follow-up. Trybe's creator app describes brand discovery, submission, live ad tracking, and performance-linked commission.

Current checks

The reel's application counts and conversion are unverified. Its displayed reapply gaps vary, and public material reviewed provides no verified universal cooldown. A percentage alone cannot establish earnings. Review the in-app offer for the commission base, attribution window, payment terms, where the content can be used, and whether the brand may run it as advertising.

Project idea

Build a shortlist manually from your own offers, or use a provider-supported export if available. Store only the fields you need. Record production time, revisions, ad activation, attributable sales and cleared payouts. Compare actual net receipts across a small number of approved campaigns.

Reusable prompt

```
Create a tracker from these supplied campaign details. Flag missing payment and usage terms, calculate scenario values from the stated commission base, and ask me to verify every application.
```
